Rationale

This policy defines the principles and procedures for the entry of candidates for public exams and the conduct of internal and external exams in school. It identifies the responsibilities of the staff, pupils and parents and the principles that will be followed where discretion on entry to examination is permitted.

Purpose of the policy

The centre is committed to ensuring that the exams management and administration process is run effectively and efficiently. This exam policy will ensure that:

- all aspects of the centre's exam process is documented and other relevant exams-related policies, procedures and plans are signposted
- the workforce is well informed and supported
- all centre staff involved in the exams process clearly understand their roles and responsibilities
- all exams and assessments are conducted in accordance with JCQ and awarding body regulations, guidance and instructions, thus ensuring that exam candidates understand the exams process and what is expected of them.

We value all pupils and want them to leave school with the highest qualifications possible, and we encourage all pupils to perform to the best of their ability and strive for excellence.

We want pupils to appreciate the recognition of success and understand the value of qualifications. It is the responsibility of everyone involved in the centre's exam process to read, understand and implement this policy.

This policy is reviewed annually to ensure ways of working in the centre are accurately reflected and that exams and assessments are conducted to current JCQ (and awarding body) regulations, instructions and guidance.

This policy will be communicated to all relevant centre staff via rmstaff/policies-school on an annual basis

Entries: roles and responsibilities

Candidates are selected for their external exam entries by the Assistant Head, Heads of Department and the subject teachers. The entry lists are then scrutinised by the Assistant Head. Woolmer Hill has a 100% entry policy, except in exceptional circumstances, and all pupils should be entered for at least their best 8 GCSE subjects.

Pupils should be entered for examinations on the basis of their likely success, not on their work rate, attitude or any other factor. A pupil who has a realistic chance of achieving any grade in the subject should be entered for the examination.

Even when performance is below the minimum level but there is still time for a pupil to reach that level, and there is some indication that this could occur, then the pupil should be entered for the examination.

A pupil whose examination entry is in doubt should be made aware of this and parents informed as early as possible, with an indication of what is required to justify an examination entry. The communication to parents should be copied to the member of SLT (Curriculum), and the Exams

Officer.

A pupil's statement that they have no desire to be entered for an examination must be supported by a letter of justification from the parents; otherwise it should be disregarded. In any event, the school retains the right to make the final decision. An agreement between the school and parents will be sought.

A pupil who has no realistic chance of achieving any grade at GCSE should not be entered for the examination. Heads of Department will need to establish whether a pupil may still achieve a grade despite failing to comply with some or all of the coursework requirements and discuss this with the Assistant Head.

Where a level or tier of entry is required, pupils should be entered for the level or tier which gives them the best chance of achieving the highest grade of which they are capable. The decision should be made by the class teacher, though the judgement of the Head of Department will prevail in the event of any dispute.

If pupils are not entered for the examination in a particular subject, they will continue to study under supervised conditions as arranged by the school and communicated to the pupil and parent (at the time of the curriculum change).
